

Forum: Anything

Topic: Intermetment starting problem

Subject: Re: Intermetment starting problem

Posted by: Nick

Posted on: 2009/11/21 9:49:35

Check the starter motor wire, it is common on these Renault's for the starter motor wire to corrode. When you go over a speed bump or any kind of sudden movement, for example, the engine shutting off can move the wire away. This then causes a problem starting. Sometimes, a simple push on the front suspension can knock the wire back into place. You need to replace the corroded wire.

If you check the wire and it is not corroded, then please let me know.

Cheers